

THE JOURNAL OF HAPPINESS BY LINIERS

A journal to recognize and celebrate what excites you; and to explore new ways to attract happiness into your life.

Being happy is not simply the result of our everyday experiences: it is a skill. And like all abilities, it is necessary to practice it daily. Recognizing what makes you happy, writing it, drawing it and talking about it makes you happy twice!

Enriqueta and Fellini share with you their ability to find joy in small things, through more than 30 comics, fun activities and quotes that will help you focus on the bright side of life.

About the author: Liniers

Liniers is the middle name of Ricardo Siri (born in Buenos Aires, 15 November 1973). His illustration career started doing fanzines and up to date, his work has appeared in Rolling Stone Magazine, Spirou, La Mano and others that he doesn't remember.

He has published books from comics he drew for La Nacion Newspaper (Macanudo 1-7), for Pagina 12's Section No (Bonjour), for a children's book (Lo que hay antes de que haya algo), and another from his notebooks with drafts (Cuadernos).

He also published a book called OOPS! in collaboration with his friend and singer, Kevin Johansen. Some of these books were published later in Spain, Peru, Canada, Italy and France.

Liniers has also exhibited his paintings: Macanudo (Ludi 2001), Mono en Bicicleta (2003), Cuadernos (2006), Estudio Abierto (2006); and during 2007, a set of originals from Macanudo's Comic "toured" through the different FNAC in Spain. In 2008, he exhibited his original drawings at Casa L'Inc. He illustrated the cd covers of Logo, by Kevin Johansen and La Lengua Popular, by Andres Calamaro. In 2007 he won a scholarship to go to Canada, where he lived for 7 months in 2007 and in 2014, the artist illustrated some covers for The New Yorker Magazine.
